

Dear

As a concerned citizen of the United States, I am writing to ask that you commit to addressing a number of issues which contribute to the high cost of healthcare.

As I consider candidates to vote for in 2018, I am pleased to see Congress working toward passing legislation which will reform our nation's healthcare system to enable all Americans to have access to a wide range of affordable choices. However, I am very concerned that the current efforts are not addressing the root cause of our cost issues and fixing what is broken with our current healthcare system.

As the 2018 elections approach, I am determining my support of your candidacy based upon your commitment to legislation that will lower the cost of healthcare in a long-term, sustainable way. will you vote for healthcare legislation that will:

- Reduce the high cost of drugs, procedures and medical care to decrease premiums, deductibles and co-pays?
- Require Medicare to negotiate drug prices on behalf of the American public?
- Give patients information about the cost of their care, prior to service, so they can make informed decisions?
- Protect the most vulnerable, including older Americans, by reforming—not cutting—Medicare/Medicaid benefits?
- Require healthcare to be paid based on outcomes and quality, eliminating fee-for-service billing, which increases the cost of healthcare?
- Put patients' interests over excessive corporate profits and political campaign contributions?
- Address the fact that Americans pay more for healthcare and get less than most industrialized countries?

I appreciate the opportunity to share my questions with you and look forward to your support of legislation that addresses these much-needed changes to our healthcare system, which are critical to lowering its cost and ensuring long-term sustainability for all of our citizens.

Sincerely,
